Please actually do this and keep a record. Discrimination in public accommodation by political preference is illegal in DC and they can be sued over it. Keep records, dates, who called, who you spoke with, what was said, etc.

<https://ohr.dc.gov/protectedtraits>

DC is also a single party consent state for recording audio which means only one party needs to consent to a recording. Check your state laws also.

the suit itself is enough, if say 300 people file suits for the same shit they spend so much on court they have to lose somewhere. Make them suffer the monotony of having to face every one.

Also don't underestimate the publicity and court do care about public opinion. So they can't completely arbitrarily not follow the law.

Bedbugs may have already happened.

Antifa threatened it.

Could be why the Hotel doesn't want to talk about why they are closed.

In Minecraft: Need the business line, not the reservation line. Block caller id. Tell them you are the exterminator and you're going to be a day late. See if they freak.

(Note, if someone is actually going to do this, post a reply here. If 100 "exterminators" call, I think they'll figure it out.)

Just called them. Talked to a nice lady who confirmed they are canceling ALL reservations for the 4th, 5th, and 6th. When asked why, she said that no one was given a reason. So I informed her about the huge Trump event, and politely let her know that she should find another place to work because that company is a bunch of traitors. She said she would inform her Manager. I was very nice about it... I am generally not very nice with this shit, but I wasn't sure what the desk person would know, and it seems she had no clue.

Yes. Think about it: NO ONE cares about making money via Capitalism anymore. If that were true, the NFL, NBA, and Fox News would already be bankrupt. If that were true, local grocery stores would be bankrupt.

We need to stop with the “let’s hit them where it hurts”. They don’t CARE about money. They are funded by other means.

We need to take them down. However we can.

Yup. A close friend said they're cancelling all over the DC area and checking itineraries at the airport. They're trying to shut this thing down. Beware of a false flag in DC to shut it down to pedestrians. You don't really believe they wouldn't do this do you ?

TSA. Only DC. Must have a legit reason for going there 5th 6th 7th. Hotels are cancelling reservations for the same reason. Fucking Nazi Germany. I'm betting on a false flag to shut DC down. I would almost guarantee it. Another Nashville bullshit bombing or something.

booking.com is a sure fire way to get cancelled. All tech companies are going to work against this movement, including of course cancelling reservations. That is how deeply entrenched this insanity is. I am sure the opposition is calling each hotel and making sure they close it all down.

<https://washington.org/dc-information/coronavirus-travel-update-washington-dc>

Go and READ THERE.

You might want to check the travel restrictions for states surrounding DC.

if you are going to be in DC last than 24 hours not a worry apparently, other than the limit on gatherings and such.

No idea, but as I read it if you are coming in from Maryland or Virginia, and you are not staying more than 24 hours you don't need one. Which is why you need to check travel restrictions for surrounding states.

Alternatively, if you are driving in and they decided for some bizarre reason to have checkpoints, you could always say you were merely transiting the DC area on your way somewhere else I would think.

Oh, I think they will fall back on the now standard "COVID19" bullshit. peons will at any rate, as peons tend to be uninventive.

"How...BIZARRE" is my standard response to bureaucratic bullshit. If in person, accompanied by a long look of puzzlement and amusement. And generally followed by a lot of questions as to who, exactly (name and title, please), authorized this departure from the norm, when, and where is the supporting regulation.

It works on the BLM office here locally. Bureau of Land Management has a habit of doing bizarre things now and then. As such, they need in person reminders that their requests are not SOP, not in the regulations, and inconsistent with the law.
